

STR to Participate at ICPHSO's Annual Meeting and Training Symposium

STR is a contributing sponsor & exhibitor at ICPHSO's 16th Annual Meeting and Training Symposium on February 24-27, 2009 at the Florida Hotel and Conference Center in Orlando, Florida.

STR will also have an exhibit table at this event and our professional staff will be available to discuss your quality assurance and health & safety needs. To meet with our staff during the event, please contact Karolyn Helda at karolyn.helda@STRQuality.com. For more information on the meeting, please visit www.icphso.org.

Session information:

Global Sourcing – Standards for Improving Product Safety

Today is the world of global product design and production. All products are complex aggregations of components, materials and sub-assemblies that are built in many areas of the world. World-class end-product manufacturers can manage a global product supply chain, integrate multiple levels of manufacturers, and involve their suppliers in the responsibility for product safety. This panel will explore the ways that end-product manufacturers, testing agencies, retailers, and government officials can improve safety throughout the supply chain.

Moderator: Wayne Morris, AHAM – Association of Home Appliance Manufacturers

Speakers: Robert Duncombe, COPOLCO

John (Gib) Mullan, CPSC (invited)

Karolyn Helda, STR

Kenneth Ross, Bowman & Brooke